What Is

Youth is a time of growing in experience and knowledge. Our high school days are the beginning of a search for ourselves and a guide to what we will become. We meet new friends and in our sharing sometimes find our first love. Yet not always do things go well and we find that sadness is just as much a friend as happiness. We learn to laugh because it is so often needed.

From our school world, we learn to understand our rights and responsibilities. Our individual differences develop as each of us looks for a goal and a purpose. We dream but not in fantasies, rather staying only a step away from realities. It is the realization that high school is only the beginning, the door of tomorrow.

This has been our time of youth.

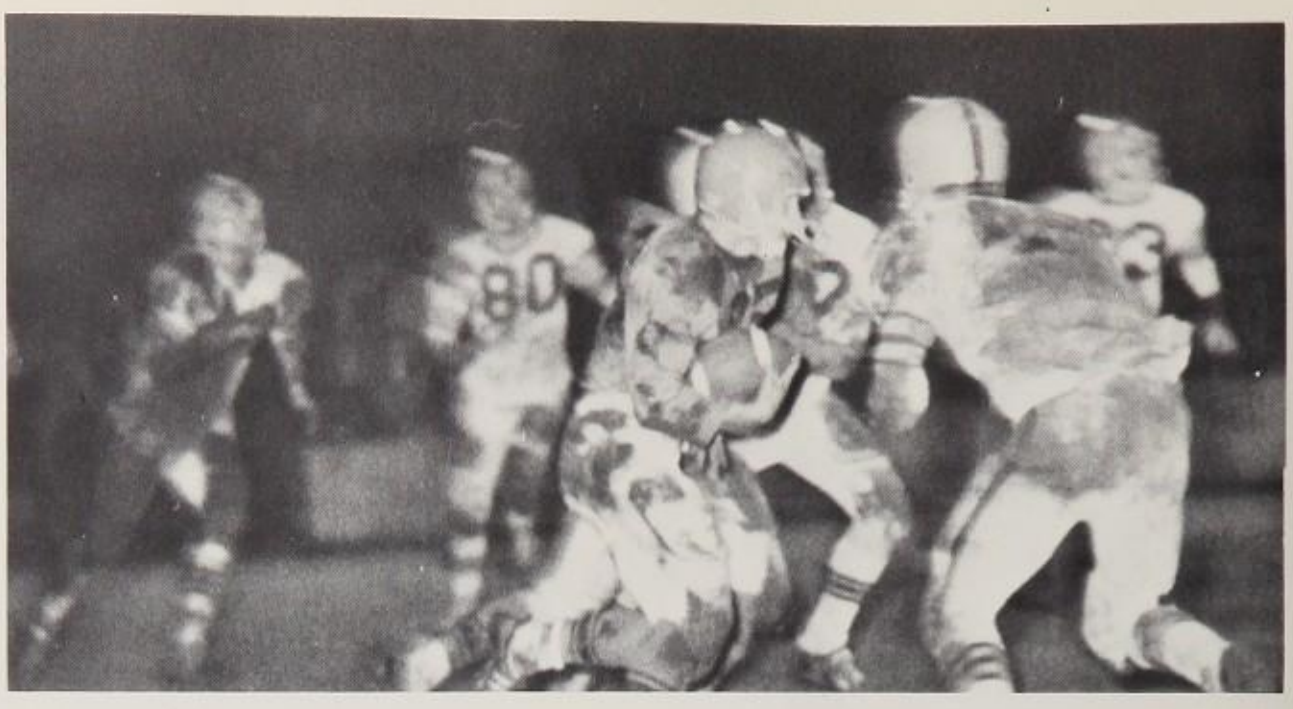
Raindrops Falling on Our Heads Didn't Dampen Huskies Homecoming



A Time of Pride

Have you got that spirit? Yea, man! After Thursday's pep rally, no one could doubt that Harlem's student body had a new enthusiasm. Students united to cheer their classmates on to victories in tug-of-wars and the powder puff. These cheers turned to "oohs, ahs, and ohs" as the blazing light of the fireworks streaked across the sky. Later, after the bonfire's warmth could hold them no longer, the chain encircling the fading embers lost its links as couples drifted toward home.

Thursday's enthusiasm carried through to Friday's assembly and the game. The Huskies fought hard and fast until the relief of half time came. Each class stood to admire their floats as they waited for the announcement to prove their work was worth it. The mighty seniors rejoiced in their victory. Yet, tension increased as the court stepped into the pouring rain to walk to the platform of glory. Many eyes filled with tears as Dee Dee Thayer's name echoed across the field. Through a joint effort of a cheering student body and a fighting team, the Huskies easily triumphed over the Auburn Knights.

On Saturday evening, seniors danced to the slow, soft music of their last homecoming. Other couples shuffled almost without sound across the floor. Through all minds ran traces of the last three days . . . which had held victory, spirit, and being together.

The Senior Class Presents

"The Crucible"

Entangling strains of music caught our ears as the house lights dimmed. All eyes fell upon the setting of the stage in the round.

This powerful drama unfolded as the hushed suspicion of witchery in Reverend Paris's daughter and in three others, Abigail Williams, Mercy Lewis, and Susanna Walcott. They became so deeply ensnarled in their own vengeful acts that they were compelled to go beyond the realm of sanity. As a result, 72 innocent people fell victims to the superstition of the community and the revenge of the children. Reason was defied through the blackening of John Proctor's name and destroyed through the taking of his life.

To the performers, behind-the-scene workers, and the directors, "Bravo and encore!"

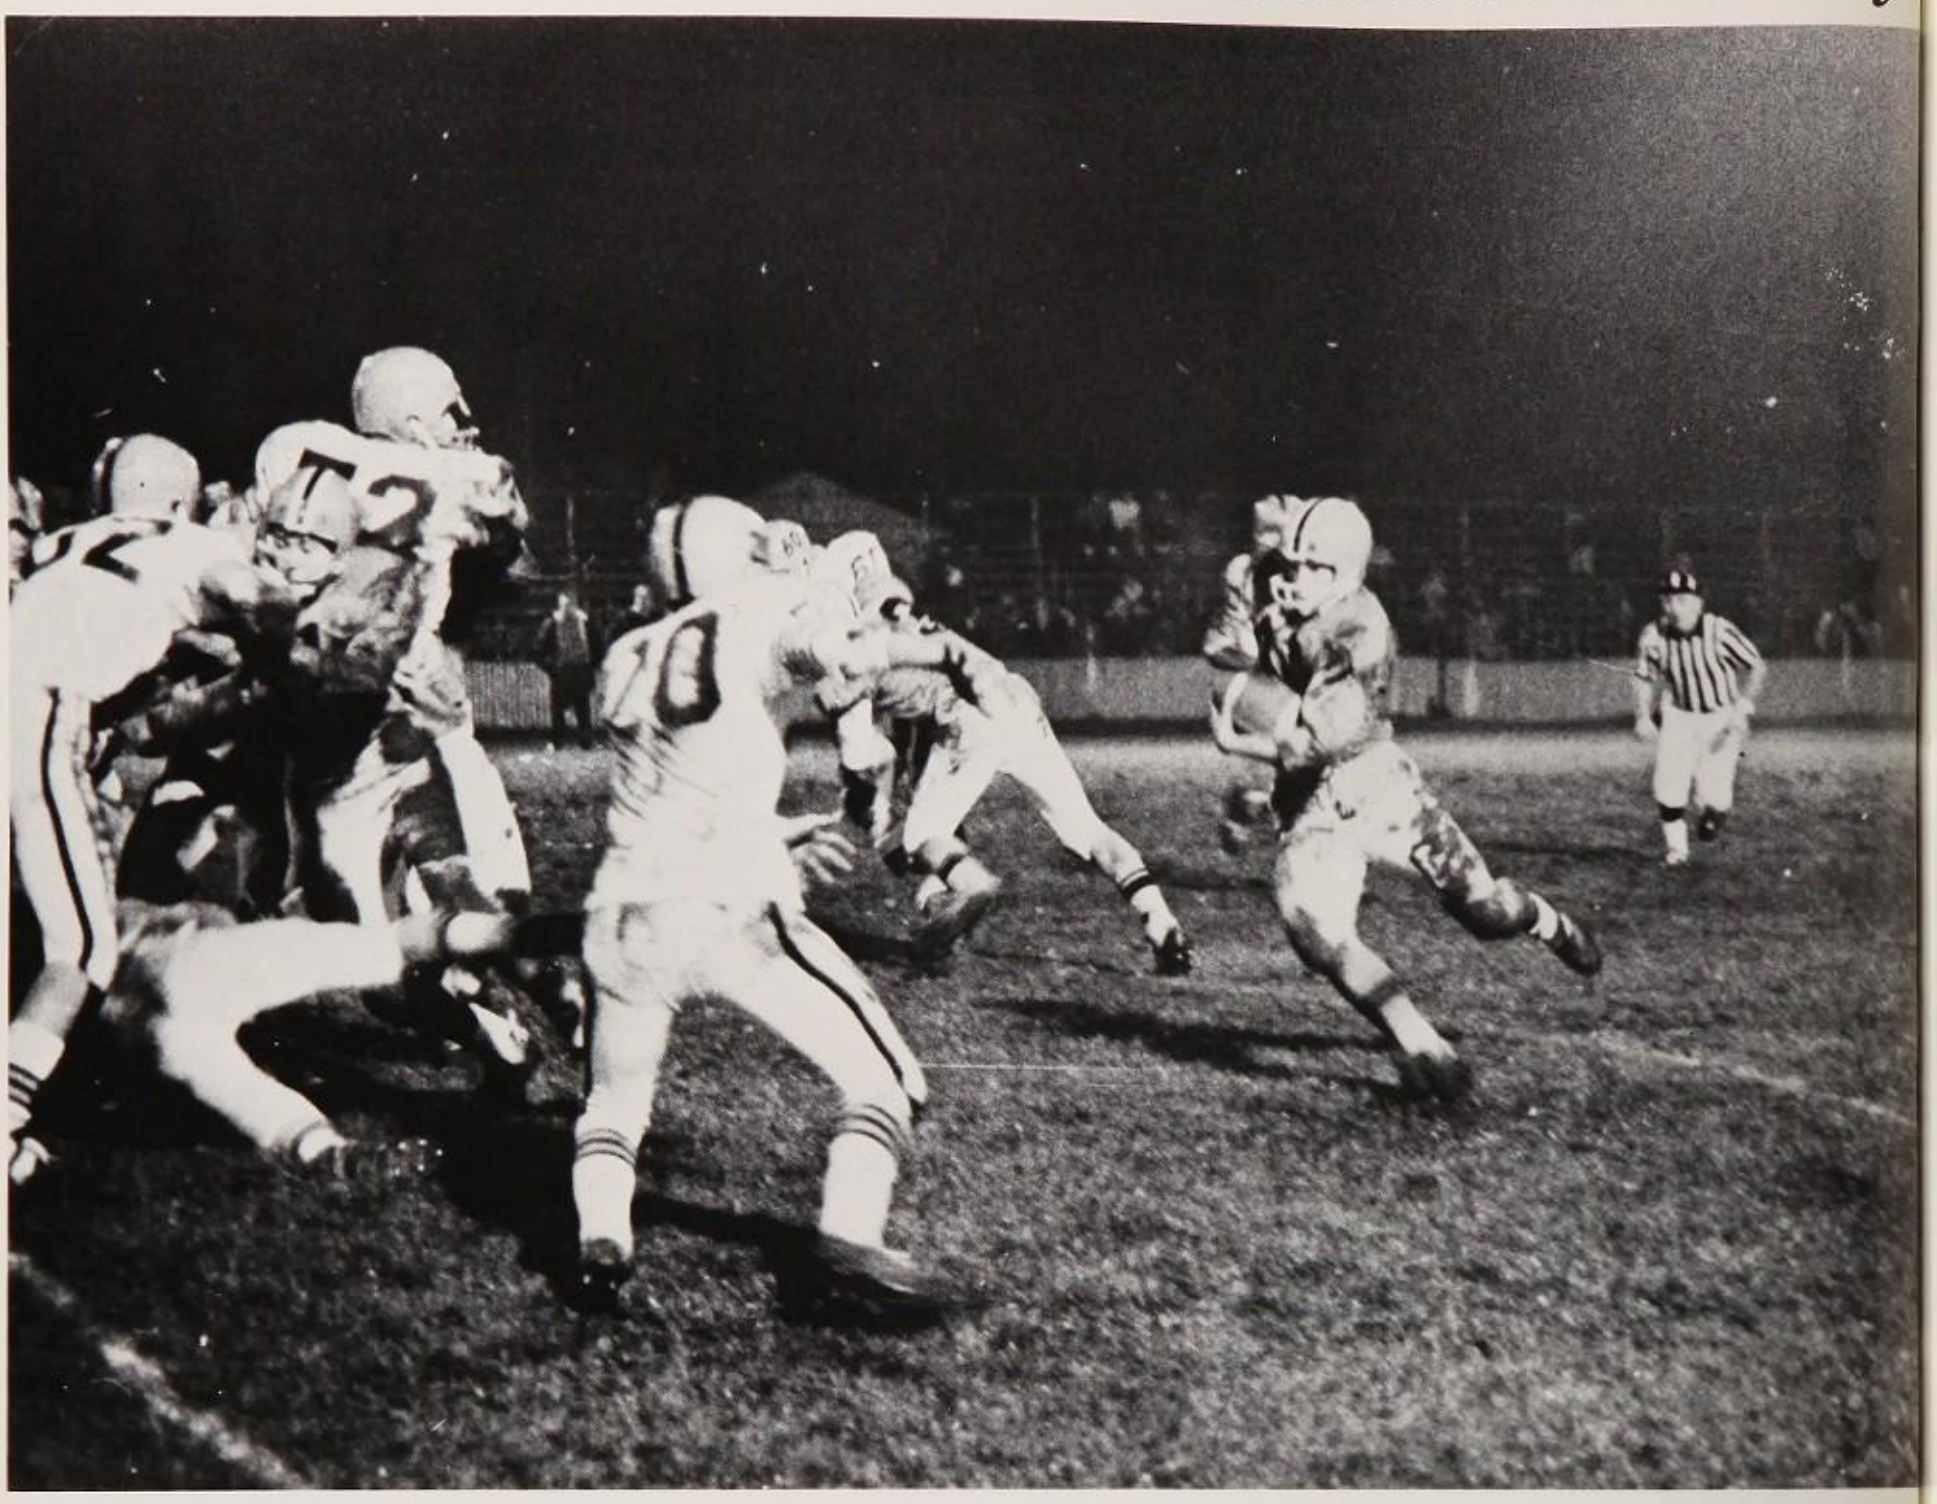
Huskies Post Early



A tremendous effort by the Harlem Huskies found them in sole possession of first place in the Big Eight Conference until almost half of the season was gone. After tieing West in their opening game, the Huskie eleven smashed Auburn and Belvidere to take possession of first place. Not since 1962, when Harlem won its first two games, has the Huskie football team caused as much excitement in this school.

The next four games spelled the downfall of the Huskies. To place high in the tough Big Eight Conference, even the best team needs breaks to win. A few breaks in the last three games could have meant victory instead of defeat. Although the team placed sixth in the Big Eight there were few fans disappointed in the play of the Huskies.

It takes a lot to be one of the best. Size, speed, power, consistent play, and superior ability are necessary to make a winning team. Leading this year's football squad in these qualities were two senior linemen, Tom Gibbs and Jim Miers, who were honored at the end of the season by being elected to the Big Eight All-Conference team. Jim Miers, described by Coach Young as "a hard-nosed football player," was also chosen as both honorary captain and most valuable player.

The Harlem Pups, playing with genuine desire throughout the season, proved to be a proficient team, shutting out 4 of the 9 teams they played. Exhibiting superior strength early in the season, they won 4 of their first five games. The offense, possessing an equally matched passing and running attack, contained the opposition. The Pups' defense showed its power and poise as they held the Auburn Knights scoreless, enabling the offense led by Gary Cook and Dan Drier to rally for the winning score. Undaunted by their loss to Guilford the Pups challenged and defeated the Boylan Titans on their home ground. Once again, the Pups' defense led by Paul Russell and Ron Haine, crushed a last minute desperation try for victory. The Pups finished the season with two losses, yet retained the respect of the Big Eight conference teams.

Steve Miller Goes Down State

McLevige, J. Dannenfeldt, R. Alton, B. Carpenter.

For the first time since cross country was introduced as a sport in 1961, a runner from Harlem achieved the coveted honor of participating in the state meet. Senior Steve Miller, in his third year on the varsity, had a fabulous season, placing exceptionally high in several big meets including third place in both the Big 8 Meet and the Sectional at Sterling. Paced also by the consistent running of senior Will McLevige and junior Mike Bevins, the team showed great stamina and determination in the grueling 2.7 mile marathon, stunning both Belvidere and Auburn, and ending with a fine 3-4 conference record and 5th place in the Big 8.

Mike Floyd M.V.P.

Mike Floyd Tops Big Eight Scoring

The Harlem Huskies found it difficult to function as one unit this past season. Mike Floyd, Big Eight scoring champ, received the publicity he deserved for his flashing, flamboyant lay-ups, and his twenty foot jump shots, but the task was too great even for this sharp-shooting junior guard, as Harlem's 3-22 win-loss record reveals.

All-considered, the season had its ups and downs. There were the exciting moments such as Floyd's season high of 38 against Freeport and the impressive show of teamwork and talent in the first half of the East game. There was also the disappointment of suffering three straight losses by only a total of eight points. With some good potential returning, the Huskies have high hopes for a winning season next year.

Cook, Foreman Lead Promising Pups

Inspired by a new coach, Fred Lundeen, Harlem's Pups started out the basketball season with a 4-0 record leading the Big 8 Conference. Top performer for the Sophomores was Cook with 19.8 points per game while shooting an amazing 47 percent from the floor. Cook was also the leading rebounder but got a lot of help on the boards from forwards Dave Preston and Jim Holtry. Guards, Elijah Foreman and Duggan Floyd, besides being the ball handlers and playmakers, did outstanding jobs on defense. The pups fell into a slump the last few games of the long, rough season but still finished a highly successful year by taking 4th place in the tough Big Eight with a 7-7 record.

The 1971 varsity season should be improved through the addition of the successful 1970 Pups.

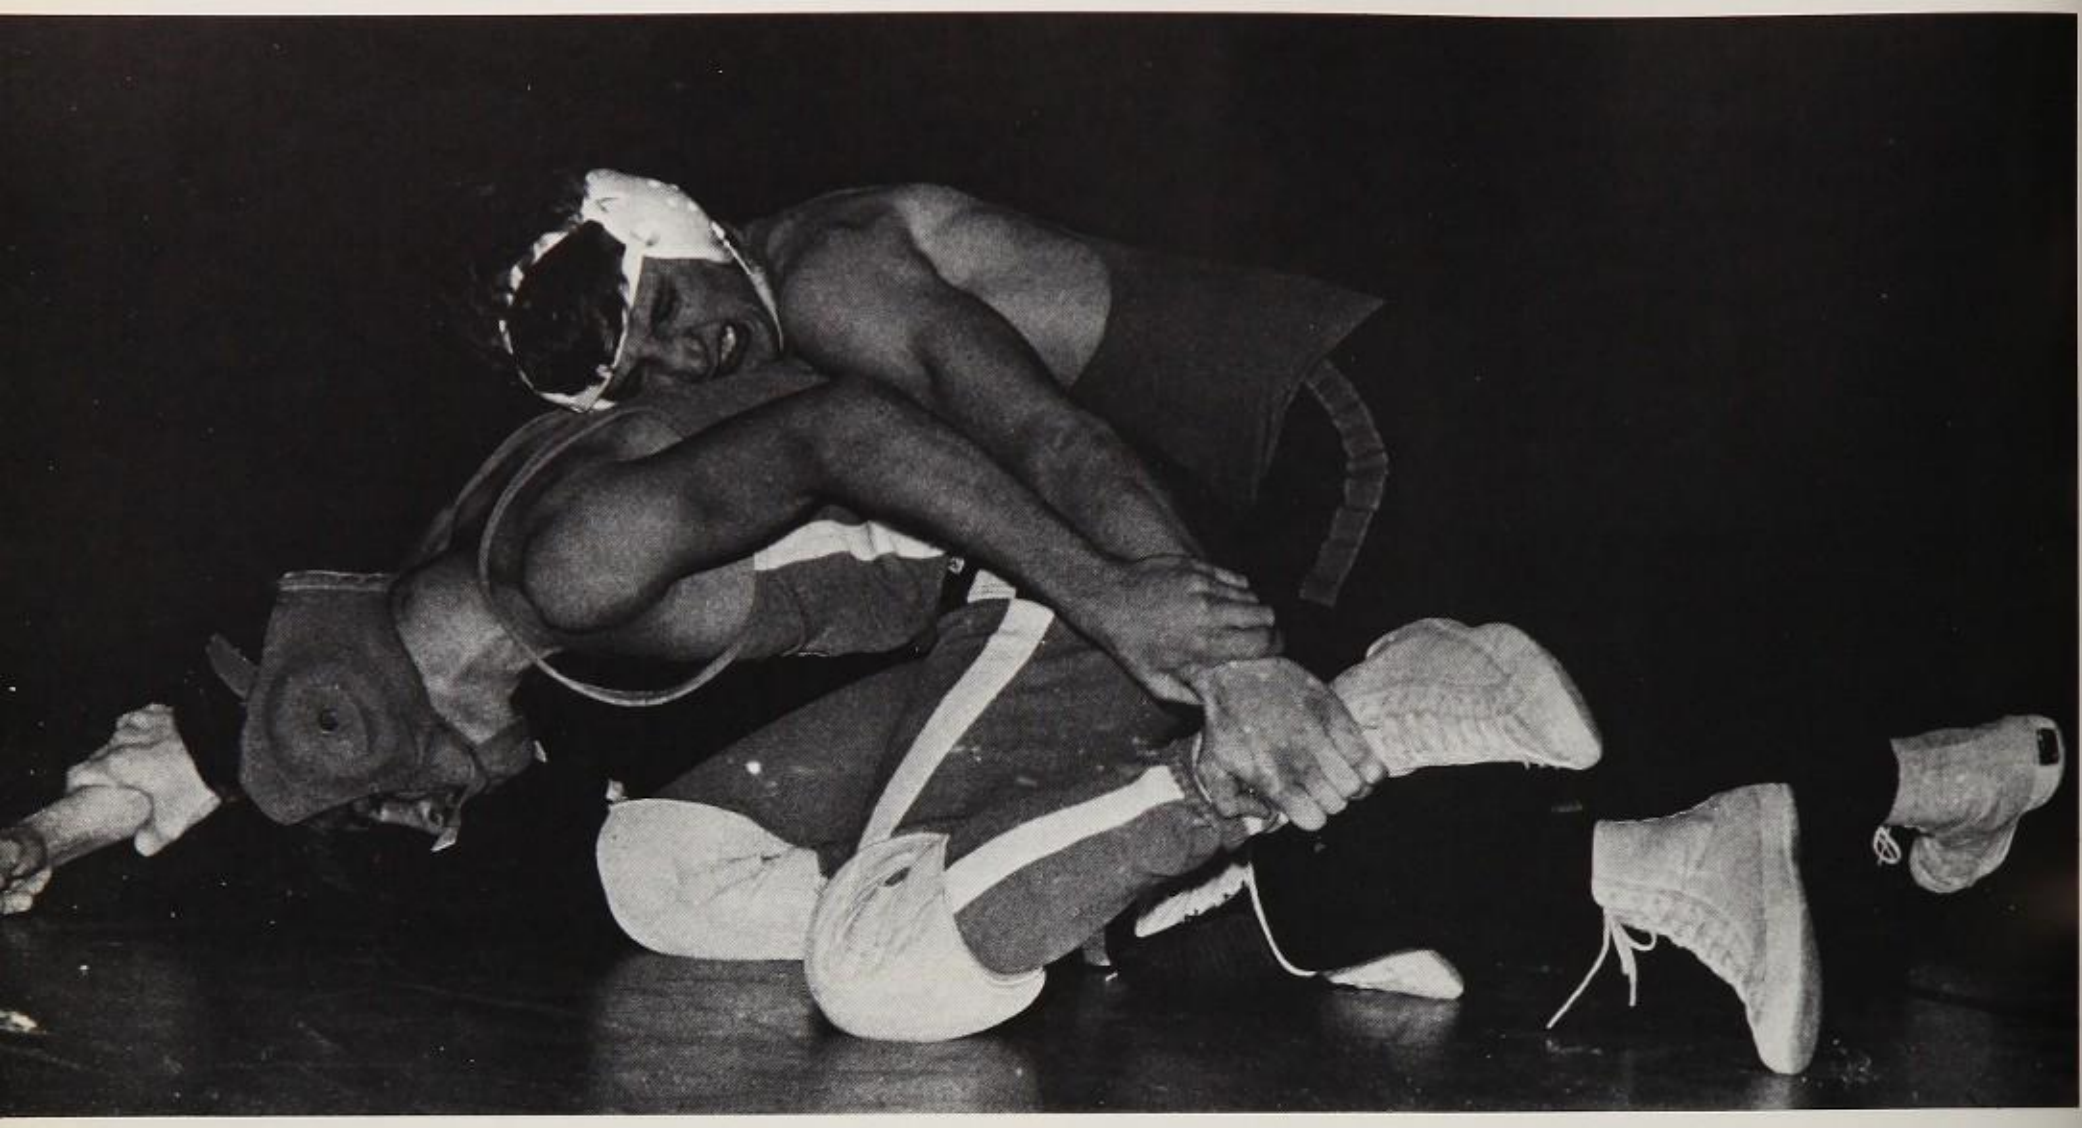
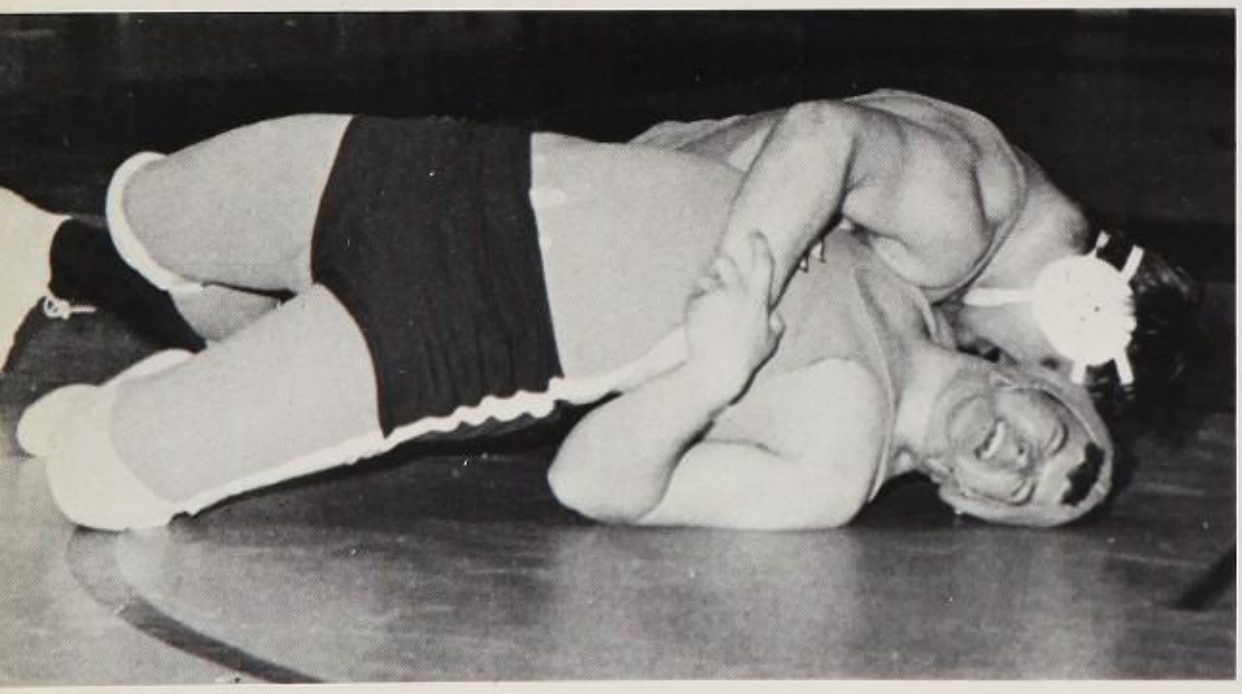
State Quarterfinals





Wrestling is the toughest of winter sports at Harlem. Conditioning involves not only the body, but also the mind. Mental readiness is important, too, for when competition comes it is between only two men, both wanting victory. Varsity Coach, Robert Elsbury, and Sophomore Coach, Charles Fletcher, instilled that drive and desire which was seen in the matmen's 9-6 dual meet record, the best in school history.

Besides sporting an excellent team record, Harlem had two champions in seniors Tom Gibbs and Bob Lane. Lane went on to become champion of his weight class in District competition. Tom Gibbs, however, showed what true wrestling ability and geniune desire can accomplish. In conference meets, Gibbs built up an enviable 28-0-1 record. In the Big Eight, the district, and the sectional contests, Tom again brought honors to himself and to his school when he captured first place in all three meets. He was Harlem's only grappler to win the Big Eight Championship twice in succession!

Next year's team will find it hard to replace these two graduating champions, but a more fully balanced squad should keep them in strong contention for the Big Eight Conference title.

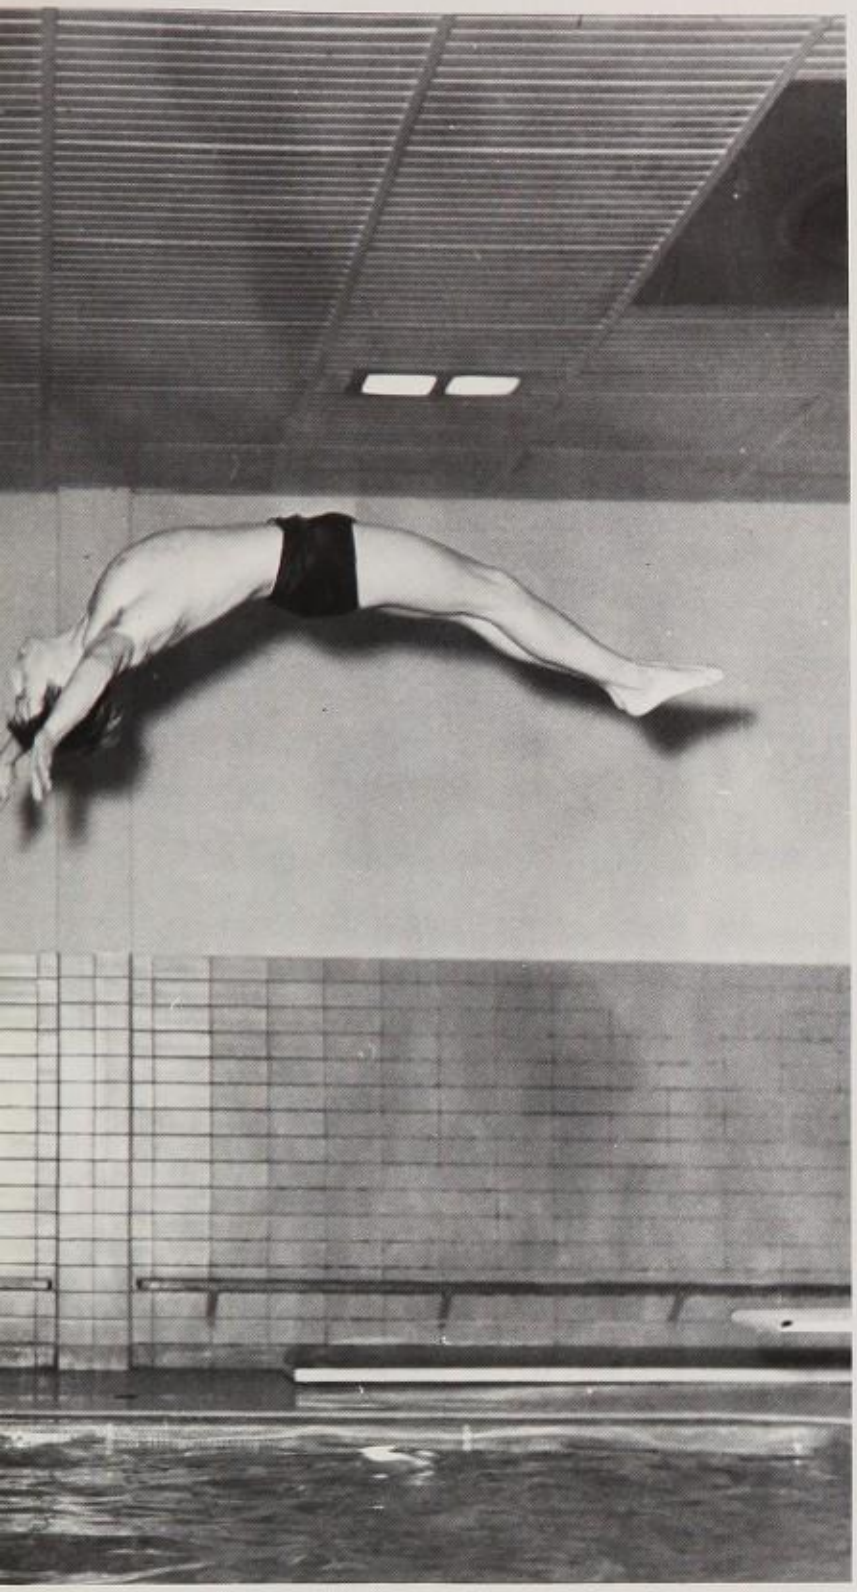
Aquamen Improve Through Hard Work



The swimming team, in its second year at Harlem, failed to score a victory in varsity competition but did enjoy vast improvement in individual events. The team was led by Steve Bergstrom in the 50 and 100 yard freestyle, Bob McCarthy in the 100 yard backstroke, and Alan Tighe in the 200 and 400 yard freestyle, who cut all their times by as much as 45 seconds. Picketing Ain't the Way . . . Use Student Council

Student Council is a link between the administration and the student body. This bond was strengthened by weekly meetings which produced a better relationship between the two. The enforcement of the parking lot rules proved that when a problem occurred S. C. could react and act. Special meetings were held to form a compromise which eventually led to the system of an open campus. Freedom was experienced by all, when study halls were abolished and the wearing of slacks for girls was approved.

Tradition was upheld when, once again, S. C. sponsored Homecoming, Student Council Week, and the Sadie Hawkins dance. Student Council means many things, but to the students at Harlem, Student Council meant a time of holding on to customs of the past but realizing that a time for a change was needed.

In the spring of every year, NHS holds an impressive induction ceremony before the entire student body. Those students, honored by membership in this most selective organization, are representative of Harlem's finest.

New members are nominated by the faculty on the basis of four criteria: scholarship, leadership, character, and service. Inductees may include only ten percent of the senior class and five percent of the juniors. NHS gives recognition to its leaders of today realizing that they will be our hope for tomorrow.

Quill and Scroll rewards Harlem's Meteor staffers and Pepper people for their superior work in journalism. Meeting the requirements for Quill and Scroll, students must be juniors or seniors in the upper third of their class with a recommendation by their advisor and the approval of the executive secretary to assure membership. All the long hours and hard work seemed worthwhile as the stately induction ceremony concluded.

Harlem Greets Foreign Exchange Student, Kris Kaasa

A foreign student, a new acquaintance, a smiling face in the hall, are the impressions of Harlem toward our exchange student, Kris Kaasa. World understanding is often an ideal, but through bringing the first exchange student to Harlem, A.F.S. initiated the program by which this will become a reality to our student body.

Time, energy, and a hope to succeed brought fund-raising to a peak as A.F.S., strove to bring another foreign student to Harlem. With the departure of Kris, we are anxiously awaiting the arrival of a new friend.

I have lived in several Norwegian towns, but now my hometown is Horten, about two hours ride from Oslo, our capital. My Norwegian family consists of Mom, Dad, and my three sisters. Here in Loves Park I have two sisters (Vicki and Lori) and one brother (Barry). The American Field Service gives scholarships to 3000 foreign students to live here in the U.S. for one year. I was one of the lucky ones who was picked, and my American family's name is Shortt.

An opportunity for high school students to live as self-governing citizens was the purpose behind Girls' and Boys' State. Learning by doing gave them a new understanding of the function of our state government.

Our student citizens attending Girls' and Boys' State were Gretchen Kluth, Stan Bartilson, Ron Ekberg, and Brian Isoz. Each having excelled in either athletic ability, academic achievement, or all-round personalities, made the week a time of new and lasting friendships.

A journey to different countries was made possible through films and speakers from such countries as Holland and India. In all such activities, I.R.O.'s exuberance was dominant.

Their culminating activity was a Spring trip to foreign consulates in Chicago. This year the newly gained experiences and knowledge brought to I.R.O. the true meaning of the theme of understanding.

Betty Crocker Likes Debaters Supreme

Combine 100 hours of research with desire to gain a personal knowledge of current events. Blend in room for improvement and decisiveness. Mix in a pinch of the gift of gab and one has the ingredients that are the makings of a good debater.

If this batter is warmed in the oven of experience for a year of actual debating it will yield to the novice debater new self-confidence, good speech habits, the ability to observe all sides of an issue, and research proficiency. Glazed with a berth on the Varsity squad, the product is ready to be proven.

When this dish, Debaters Supreme, was served with the topic: Resolved: "That Congress Should Prohibit Unilateral Military Action in Foreign Countries," it won blue ribbons in effort and outcome.

Footlighters Dress the Naked Stage

What do Betsy Ross, Thomas Edison, Rembrandt, Joseph, and Alexander Bell have in common? With their skills they could be footlighters. In Footlighters there is a job for everyone.

Footlighters do the preparation for the plays. They transform bare stages into settings of any time or place using props, lights, and sound. Ordinary people are changed into stage characters by the sensitive hands of the make-up people.

Footlighters, after creating the phyiscal illusion on the stage, desire the total involvement upon the stage. They find they can no longer resist the urge to be in the spotlight instead of the reflected glory behind it.

Energetic Math Students Prepare For College

Enthusiasm and a common interest were combined to produce an active Math Club. Although small in number, they generated a lively spirit of learning that will help ease the burden of future classes.

Fossils Anyone ?

There's more to the world than meets the eye. Microscopes and telescopes have proven this fact to Science Club members. Throughout the school year students interested in biology, earth science, chemistry, or physics have been researching and having fun at the same time.

Individual projects were encouraged by the sponsors: Mr. Melvin Panjkovich, Mr. John Sundstedt, Mr. Brian Johnson, and Mr. Robert Ellsbury. Group activities were varied and educational. Guest speakers were invited to lecture on wildlife, hikes were taken, and a field trip to Chicago were all a part of Science Club's schedule. With all the advancement in science today, this organization couldn't help but be alive and active.

F.H.A. Builds Character Through Community Effort

Noise and laughter blending with aroma comes from the Home Economics room when F.H.A. holds their meetings.

Development of character and community services were the main objectives of the club during the year. Future Homemakers initiated the new school year by dressing-up dolls and giving them to orphanages. Parents were brought in on the fun with the Daddy-Dinner and the Mother-Daughter Banquet. Good times outweighed the work and made the year a time of inspiration and achievement.

An Apple for the Teacher

Readin', 'riting, and 'rithmetic were learned by all when the members of F.T.A. took over the classroom. Student-teaching was only one of this year's activities; lectures and field trips supplied additional opportunities for new understanding about teaching as a career.

Becoming a teacher takes time, effort, and devotion, and the club members gladly accepted these terms. A sense of achievement was obtained when steps were taken towards obtaining their goal of teaching.

Future Secretaries of America Work Toward Business Success

Every summer, chills race continually down the backbone of thousands of high school graduates working on their first permanent secretarial jobs. These new employees don't know what to expect. The National Secretaries have set up a program to release the tension by acquainting high school secretarial and clerical practice students with office operations.

In the Hononegah Chapter, to which Harlem belongs, practicing secretaries and employees inform the students of office procedures, what bosses require, and how to fit into the office routine. During National Secretaries Week, the FSA girls tried out their new knowledge while visiting the sponsoring secretaries in the offices and working along with them.

Inspired Young Artists Create

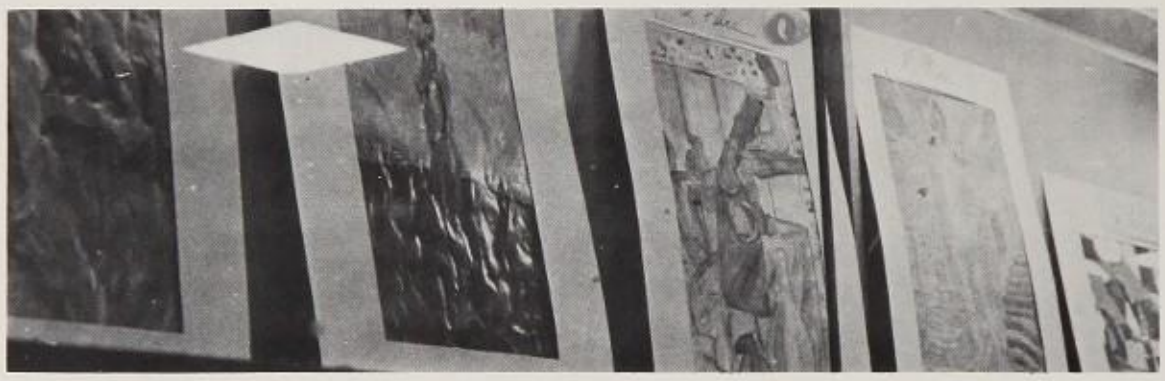
Talent and lots of patience constitute a real artist. Brushes and paints are required, but the ability to transfer images from the mind to paper must come naturally.

Discovering and expanding this talent was the primary aim of Art Club members. To reach this, they worked on individual projects and as a group made the scenery for the operetta. Also a journey to the Chicago Art Institute was a part of the agenda. All activities were a part of learning to be creative and express oneself.



Say It In French . . .

Enjoying oneself plus advancing the French language through a media of group interest are the aims of students in French Club. Christmas spirits enveloped students in a union of French, Spanish, and Latin clubs at a banquet to share knowledge of foreign cultures. Bake sales helped to finance events that became rollicking adventures making this group pleasurable.

Hail Caesar!!!

Ancient Rome and Greece, the Parthenon, Augustus, Aristotle, and Socrates are only a few of the places and people that came to life every third Wednesday at the Latin Club meeting. Promoting interest in the Latin Culture and history has been the continuous effort of Latin Club.

For the twelve members of Latin Club, membership into the Junior Classical League was a great honor and privilege! This young and eager club opened the doors for exploration into the Latin world.

"Te Quiero, Enamorado"

Fun but learning ... learning Spanish. This was the primary goal of this year's Spanish Club. Fiestas celebrating Spanish holidays gave all members an opportunity to enjoy themselves. A joint Christmas party with the French and Latin Clubs was a happy success. A new understanding between the organizations came through the sharing of songs, stories of their countries' special customs, and the eating of exciting new foods.

A trip to Mexico is every Spanish student's dream. Spanish Club helped to make it a reality by raising funds for many interested students. Each adventurer will return with tales of the glories of Mexico.

Spirit, anticipation, and a sense of pride could be seen on the faces of the eleven girls of the Pom-Pom Squad. An enthusiastic response followed each performance whether at half-time, a wrestling meet, or a student assembly. Lettermen Work Together

Natural ability and a desire to excel are the marks of a superior athlete. Months of training and tough competition are rewarded by the presentation of varsity "H's." Only Harlem's finest athletes, these varsity letter winners, are eligible for membership in H-Club.

Actual membership, however, requires lettermen to perform services for the club. Working on the Homecoming Dance and ushering at home basketball games were a few of H-Club's activities. Rec nights and the annual steak fry helped tie all the sports together in fun and friendly competition.

G.A.A., a Symbol of Friendship

A candle and a rose. These beautiful symbols bring girls into an organization of fun and togetherness. New friends, old friends, joined in games that seemed more enjoyable when so many were playing. Sharing the victory of either side, all learned the meaning and value of sportsmanship. Throughout the year, members created an atmosphere of warmth and friendship through participation in the numerous activities of G.A.A. Another symbol, a letter received at the annual Mother-Daughter Banquet, left in mind traces of happy times on Mondays and Thursdays.

Moans and groans, huffin' and puffin', could be heard in Harlem's pool every Thursday night. Miss Griggs, sponsor of Swim Club, put all the new members through their paces, touching upon all seven basic strokes.

Next was the presentation for tryouts for the annual Swim Show. The girls were divided into several groups with each group concentrating on a certain aqua-stunt. After practicing continually, finally came the moments of anticipation at tryouts and the hopeful desire for a promising Swim Show.

Pep Club Lifts Their Hands Up To the Huskies

What does everybody think about the Huskies? Pep Club thinks they're outasite! Pep Club launched the new year by declaring a Kick-Off Week, which involved all students in the promotion of school spirit. They occupied their time and effort creating posters and skits. A new meaning of school spirit made its presence known at Harlem High.

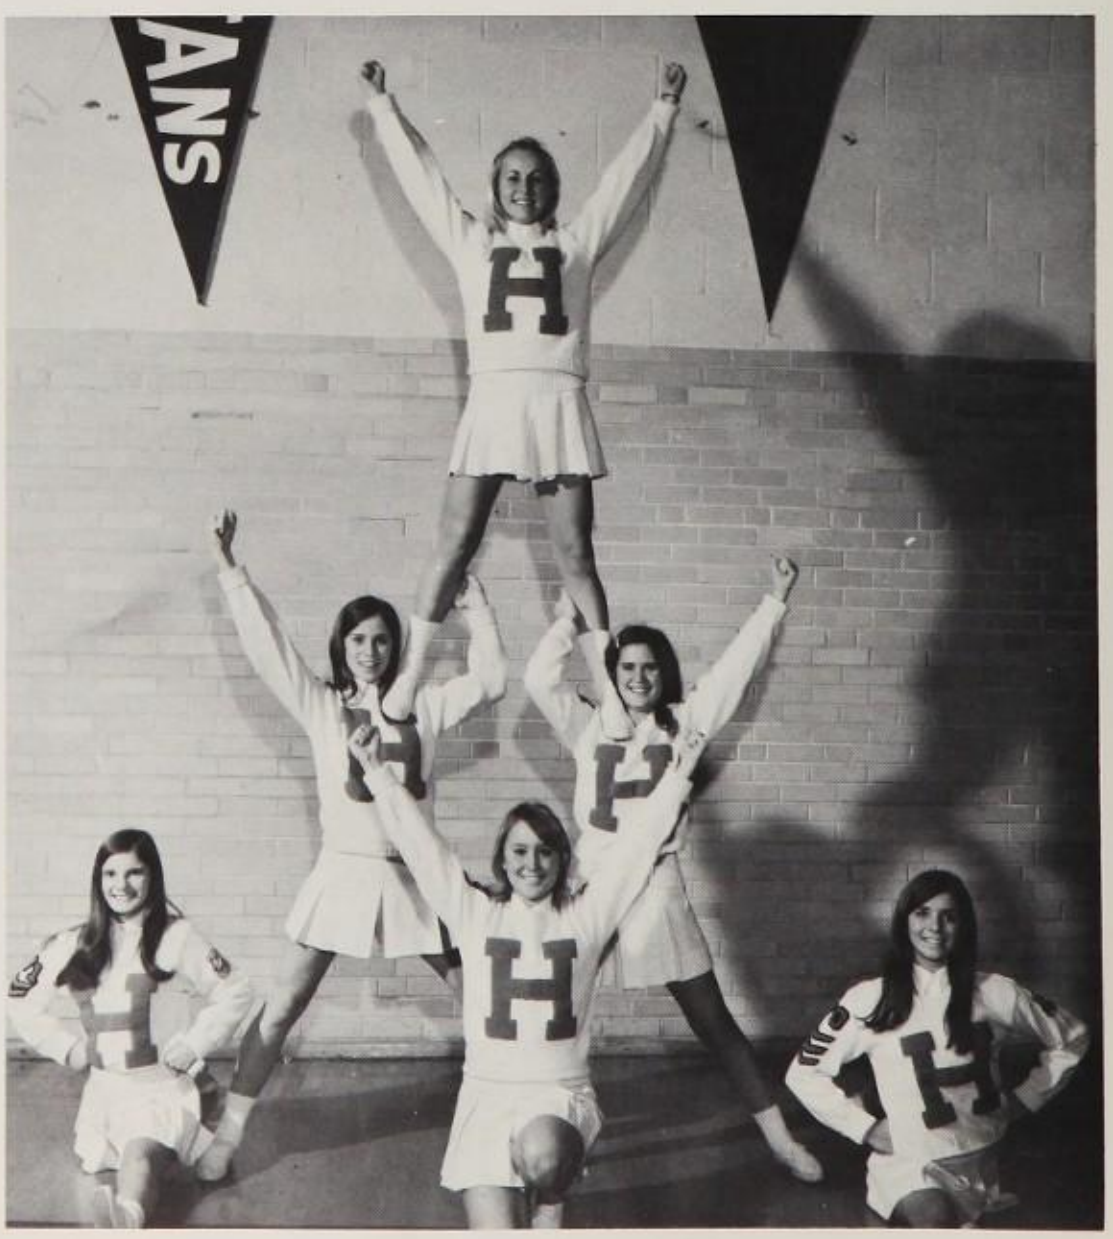
Fire-Up For A Victory

Everything begins at summer camp where Varsity cheerleaders go for special training in form and stunts. With abundant ideas they spend the rest of the summer putting to use their new knowledge.

Autumn finds them evoking the roar of the fans and the spirit of the team as that winning touchdown is made. Towering mounts as high as spirits are built in perfection, and the ball swishes through the hoop as the crowd is led on in cheers.

Echoes of jubilant and anguished cries were not forgotten as the season came to a close. Still faintly heard is "Fire-up For a Victory . . . "



Enthusiasm plus . . . J.V. Cheerleaders

"Shoot, shoot, two points more! Come on Pups, up that score!" Whether a win or loss, Harlem's first Junior Varsity Cheerleaders made it their goal to promote pride in all Huskie fans. As these six girls performed new chants and cheers, school spirit rose to push our team onward and upward.

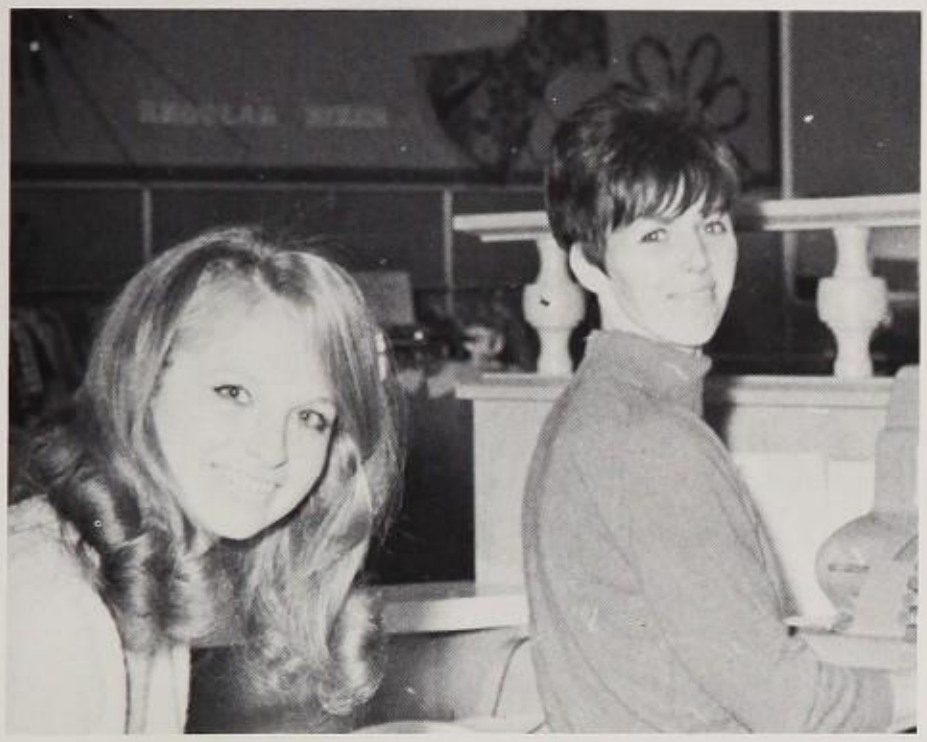
DECA on the Job Training . . .

Work and learn, isn't that the way of the world? One has to put out an effort in order to receive any benefits. Distributive Education Clubs of America (DECA) use this philosophy as a guideline to their co-operative education plan.

This year sixteen Harlem students, under the supervision of Mr. Wayne Jacobs, attended morning classes and held afternoon jobs. Each participant was required to work at least 15 hours and no more than 30. By limiting time the program was kept balanced and running smoothly. Co-operative participation of the student through work at school and on the job was the key to DECA success.



Cadets Build for Future . . .

Activities and education drew many Harlem students into NJROTC. New sophomore cadets were trained in the basics of naval life: customs, traditions, history, and naval equipment. Courses covering such varied subjects as astronomy, meteorology, and oceanography gave junior and senior members of Harlem's corps a more complete understanding of their world.

Precise drills and sharp commands became familiar to all NJROTC members as they prepared for special appearances in parades and assemblies. The Color Guard brought dignity to the opening ceremonies at all home basketball and football games through their solemn presentation of our flag. This year of training made a permanent impression on all of the cadets through high standards of discipline and responsibility.

Band Strikes Up!

Musicianship intensified, as Harlem's band program increased greatly. Two bands were formed to satisfy the varying needs of the band students. Cadette Band, composed of beginning and less advanced musicians, were taught the fundamentals and graduated many fine prospects into Concert Band.

Concert Band combined its musical talents to produce many exciting performances. During the fall Northwestern Band Day and several gigantic entertaining half-time shows created a sense of pride, unity, and many sore feet.

Three carefully selected numbers for full band, many solos and a wide variety of ensembles were carefully prepared as the bandsmen again sucessfully competed at state contest. They brought away honors, but more important, memories that will resound for many years.

Madrigals Create Through Harmony

Singing and enjoying it, is all part of Madrigal performances. All voices blended to create a special kind of harmony. After hours of practice, this sound came to many listeners through happy songs and warm ballads. These young performers strove to express themselves through music by singing from the heart. So with pride and a feeling of fulfillment, Harlem's Madrigals ended another year.

Look, Listen and Hear ...

Down the stairs from the choir room fourth hour floated I, the sweet clear tone of A Capella.

Enthralled audiences listened to me at school concert in honor of Veterans Day and Christmas. I accompanied the choir to Trinity Lutheran for Christmas and the Invitational Sing at DeKalb.

When I was applied to Ensemble music, I was rated superior.

People almost rolled in the aisles when they heard that Southern drawl and me in the funny "Lil Abner."

Altogether, A Capella and I had a good year.

Correct breathing methods and sight reading are stressed along with blend and vowel sounds. Use of these skills and feelings portrayed, captured the audiences of Mixed Chorus. Spontaneous applause marked the opening at the North Suburban Woman's Club. Performances varied with a serious mood for the church concert, then a lighthearted spark was shown for the Mother's Tea. Appreciated relaxation showed in the antics of the members at the party honoring seniors.

Though voices were tinged with hoarseness, faces glowed joyously as Treble Clef worked its way through a busy schedule. An invitation from another school's choral group for a Christmas Tea resulted in an exchange of music techniques and an insight into the activities of a different school.

Early spring heightened spirits as they sang their way to a smooth performance for an evening church service. On they charged to the Mother's Tea concert which brought the season to a harmonious closing.

Pepper Is the People Pepper-Upper

Trying to keep up with Harlem's fast pace was not an easy task for Pepper staffers. Yet, with quick energy and an insight into news, each issue was packed with what was happening. School activities were not the only topic covered by our bi-monthly reporters. Editorials brought interested readers into local and even world problems. A few added touches brought the Pepper a "new look," such as its first color page and a supplement on new educational programs.

A paper put out by young hands, the Pepper demonstrated student involvement beyond the world of Harlem High.

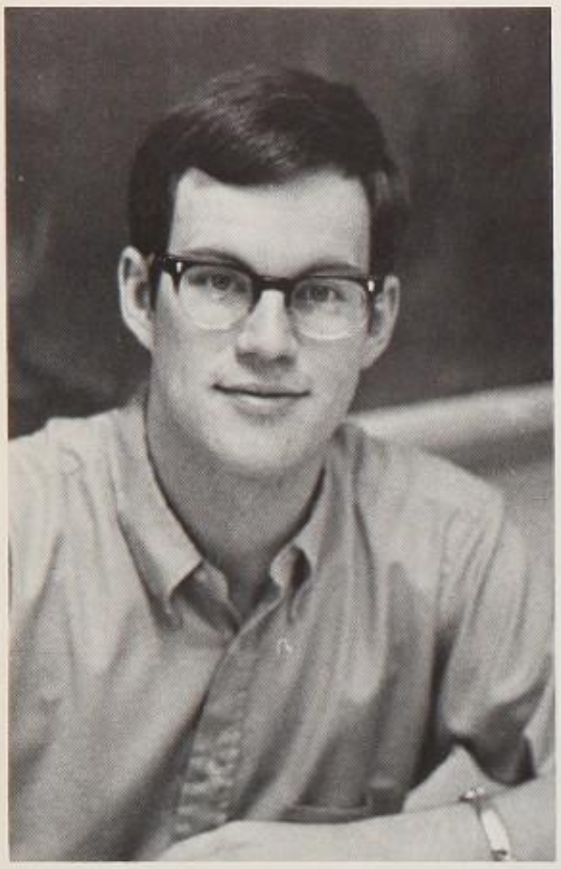
Staffers Produce Reflection of Harlem



Editor-in-Chief:
Craig Southard

Meteor is faced with the challenge of condensing a year of cheers, crowded hallways, classrooms, open books, and especially Harlem people into a true portrait of our school. Cover design and theme were chosen as the yearbook began to take shape.

Photographers appeared everywhere trying to capture the spirit of Harlem within their glassy eyes. Layouts were patiently measured and drawn on permanent sheets with precision for balanced quality on the pages of our yearbook. Meaningful writeups, worked over and over, explained the numerous student activities. As the deadline approached the Meteor was complete, perfect.

Happiness and pride were overwhelming as the 1970 Meteors were handed out. The year had flashed brightly across its pages.

Congratulations June Grads from Rockford Crescent.
Right now is a good time to start cutting through the maze of different ideas on where you go from here.

If you are wondering what the future holds for you . . . stop for but a moment and think about the many dignified, productive and personally satisfying professions right here within Rockford industry.
All of them help make our progressive technological society possible.

Two such professions are header die makers and machinists.
They both contribute culturally and economically. Our automobile industry and its affiliates alone—which Rockford supports with its machine tool capacities—represent a full third of this nation's total economic output. These industries help maintain the economic vitality of America.

Rockford Crescent, one such industry, is looking for header die maker and machinist apprentices. Here you would have the opportunity for advancement and participation in rewarding employee benefits, and you would be directly helping to support our great American way of life.

So . . . if you think you have a future in industry, come to Rockford Crescent, Rockford's leading manufacturer of wire drawing machinery and other industrial equipment.

Who know's? Rockford Crescent may be where you go from here.

End Word

Waiting, Waiting, It's here. The year has ended. The book is complete. We've put it together with work, dedication, excitement, and sorrows. Forgetting any one moment is impossible. Everyone on the staff we remember uniquely but at the top of our memory are Cindy Terry who built the book's foundation with lines and Dave Johnson who processed the pictures. Pat Winch gave us the meaning with words while Will McClevige kept pace with the athletes. Kris Easton and Deb Braaten kept our mess in order as Vicki Shortt and Kris Peebles worked for our goals.

We acknowledge all of them as well as the entire 1969-1970 Meteor Staff.

But most of all we would like to thank Mr. T. our kind hearted advisor for his time, effort, guidance and inspiration. For without him it couldn't have been possible. No where else would one man care so much about his staff and everything else.

We hope that everyone at Harlem is rewarded with the best year-book ever for it truly reflects "A Time For Youth."
